Plot synopsis:

Treeified is the second book in The Adventures of Danny, a series for 7-12 year olds, written by Pat Flynn.

Danny is a typical young boy, the middle child in a family that also contains big brother Tommy, and little sister Katy. Like many boys, Danny's sense of adventure, bravado and imagination frequently land him in all sorts of trouble. This book contains seven short stories, each of which revolves around Danny's experiences with various members of his family. For example, Tommy pummels him in tackle football, his mum forces him to share his ice-block with Katy, and cousin Chris challenges Danny to climb to the top of a tree. The stories are action packed and fast-paced, presented in short chapter format, making them appealing even to slower or reluctant readers. The stories are highly entertaining and great to read aloud. Pat Flynn's trademark sense of humour also enables each tale to include subtle life lessons.

About the author:

Pat Flynn grew up in Jimboomba, Queensland, before moving to the Australian Institute of Sport in Canberra on a tennis scholarship. After playing and coaching on the professional circuit he became a teacher, where his observations of young people – their interests and stories – led to the highly praised Alex Jackson series. Two of his books for primary school readers, To the Light, and The Tuckshop Kid, have been shortlisted for the CBCA Book of the Year Awards, with The Tuckshop Kid taking out an Honour Book award. Flynn now lives on the Sunshine Coast where he writes, surfs, and plays tennis in his spare time. He also runs workshops encouraging young people to read and write. This is what Pat has to say about the writing of Adventures of Danny 2: Treeified: 'These stories mean a lot to me because each one is based on a real event from my childhood. Of course not everything in the stories is true because as a fiction writer I can exaggerate and change little bits, but most of it did happen. Growing up in the country meant my siblings and cousins and I used to spend a lot of time exploring outside, which can be seen in Climbing Trees and Stealberries. But probably my favourite story is Bunny, about the time we were in the car coming home from the beach and my sister's favourite stuffed toy flew out the window. And yes, my Mum really did run across the highway to rescue it!'

Discussion/activities:

- Look at point-of-view. Each of the stories in Treeified is told from Danny's point of view. Rewrite one of Danny's adventures through the eyes of another character, such as Tommy, Chris, Damien Dwyer, or the short, hairy Italian man.
- Choose an incident from your own childhood where you have taken something without permission, like Danny in Stealberries, and write about it. Now illustrate it like Gus Gordon has in Adventures of Danny.
- Act out the Bunny story. You'll need five characters, and change it so each character has enough to say and do. Write it in script form like this:
Danny: We're in the car, coming home from the beach. I'm tired from catching hundreds of waves on my boogie board and burying Dad up to his neck, but I can't sleep.
Katy: (sticking Bunny in Danny's face) Bunny wants to have a look out the window. He's carsick.
- Like in Hells Bells, do a role-play where one person plays a priest and the other someone who is making their first confession. Start with, 'Bless me Father for I have sinned' and end with the priest giving the person something to do or say as penance. Perhaps add some unexpected twists.
- Danny is scared in Climbing Trees but he overcomes his fear. Write and perform a short speech about a time you were scared of something. Did you overcome your fear?
- Create a snakes and ladders board-game based on Danny's adventures. (e.g. Get an ice-block for working, move forward 3 spaces; lose half your ice-block to Katy, go back 2 spaces; tackle Tommy, go up the ladder; lose Katy's bunny out the window, slide down the snake.) What sort of reward would Danny like when he reaches the end of the game?
